OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms—shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors.
I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure." Mrs. HARRIET E.
WAMPLER, 624 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free,

BETTER BANKING SYSTEM DEMANDED FOR FARMS

Banker Says Crops Ought to Be as Good Collateral as Stocks and Bonds.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 22.—
"The man who tills the ground in this country is creating $25,000,000 of new wealth every day," Joseph G. Brown, of the Citizens' National Bank, of Raleigh, N. C., told the 4,000 American bankers at their annual convention here today. "No plan of banking reform can be effective that does not give full consideration to the needs of the farms. Back of all commerce, all banking, all manufacturing, all industry, lies agriculture, the real basis of prosperity."

Mr. Brown said that country bankers wanted a banking system that would make it as easy for Texas farmers to borrow money as it was for Wall-street speculators; a banking system that would make the stored crop of the southern planter as good bank collateral as stocks and bonds, and a banking system which would prevent money panics, as they are now prevented in all other civilized countries.

"Panics," he said, "hurt the farmer just as much as they do Wall street. They make it more difficult for him to raise and market his crops. They cause high rates for money and low prices for cotton and grain."

"Some one has well said that panics has cost this country more than war, and yet we know that panics can be prevented. They are prevented in other civilized countries. In our recent panic we were forced to call upon England to help us out of her gold reserve when in our own vaults there was stored six times as much as she possessed.
The difference was that hers was concentrated and available and the people knew it. While ours, larger than that of any other nation, was scattered among 25,000 different banks, and therefore, of no service."

"With us the banks lost confidence in each other, there was no practical way of co-operation, the people knew it, and the blighting panic ensued. Such will continue to be the result until we reach the point where we can lay aside sectional jealousies and partisan prejudices and unite in some plan by which the vast resources of this country may be readily utilized and be made as they should be, a mighty tower of strength."

"We need in this country a financial system so strong that no short crop, and no number of mismanaged institutions can bring disaster upon those banks which are honestly and conservatively managed, or bring about such a condition of affairs that the men who are doing things in the world, and who by their skill and ingenuity are supplying the daily wants of mankind, must stop the wheels of their mills and their factories, and turn their operatives adrift with no means of procuring a livelihood for their wives and children."

Mr. Brown said that the American farmer, as the producer of nine billion dollars' worth of life's necessities every year, was certainly entitled to better banking facilities than he had under the present system.

"We ought to have bonded warehouses through the South and West," said he, "where the farmer can borrow money on his crops as easily as the Wall street man now borrows at the bank on stocks and bonds. With bonded warehouses in operation all over the country, the farmer will occupy a most independent position in regard to the disposition of his crop, for his warehouse certificates will be just as desirable as stocks and bonds, and in many cases, far safer. The farmer will at last have that which has been denied him all these years, facilities for borrowing, equal at least to the man in the city who carried his surplus in the shape of negotiable securities."

"This will bring about more cordial relations between the farmer and the banker, and both will appreciate more fully the fact that each has his place in the world's economy, that their interests are mutual, and that whatever builds up the one adds in some degree to the strength and stability of the other. There should be no antagonism between these two classes. The banker has long recognized the farmer as the backbone of the country, and no well-posted banker can be found who does not realize that his bank is in better shape with its loans scattered in the hands of a hundred substantial farmers than with them concentrated in the hands of a few city borrowers."

PROMINENT FARMER

Of Shinnston Loses Sight of Right Eye and Will Have It Removed.

A. C. Morris, of Bridgeport, was in the city a few hours Wednesday morning enroute home from Wheeling where he had accompanied his grandfather, Abraham Nuzum, to have his eyeight examined.

The specialist who performed the examination found that the sight of his right eye was entirely gone and that he would have to return to Wheeling in a week or two and have the eye removed as it was shriveling up and making an ugly appearance.

Mr. Nuzum lives near Shinnston and has a large number of friends in Clarksburg who will be grieved to hear of his misfortune.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.
Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is commonly caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices or by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements—to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for disordered stomachs, indigestion, and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall remedies in this community
